SB Electronics Customers

Re: 192P Pacer Product Line End of Life

Due to a reduction in demand of this product line, SB Electronics has decided to cease its production as of March 31, 2009. We will honor all orders which are placed and shipped by Dec 31, 2008. Because of limited raw material, we will make every attempt to honor orders placed for shipment from Jan 1, 2009 through March 31, 2009 however specific requests will have to be confirmed on an individual order basis.

The 192P Pacer line has been a continuously running series for over 40 years. SB Electronics has produced over 50 million of these products which are known for their reliability in the industry. Unfortunately, the market conditions just do not support their on-going manufacture. We greatly appreciate the customers who have used these products for many decades and we are committed to providing them an orderly "end of life" transition.

Please direct any inquires to the SB Electronics' customer service staff at 802-476-4146 or info@sbelectronics.com.

Sincerely,

Ed Sawyer
